BMA celebrates 400th new Bowen Basin home

BMA recently celebrated the completion of construction of the company's 400th new employee home, built in the last two years.

The 400th dwelling is an important milestone for local BMA employees, who are benefitting from the homes and reduced waiting times to access housing, and it also demonstrates BMA's commitment to delivering quality accommodation options for its workforce.

BMA recognises the importance of ensuring our communities are attractive places for employees to come to live and work, and the provision of housing for them and their families is critical to ensuring these communities continue to thrive. The delivery of the new homes in BMA communities will also help ensure rental prices remain at more affordable levels in coming years.

Over 300 CQ businesses jump on board BMA Local Buying

With over 800 supply opportunities made available to small businesses across Dysart, Moranbah, Blackwater and Emerald, BMA recently celebrated a successful first year of the BMA Local Buying Program. The Program, a partnership between BMA and the Mackay Isaac Whitsunday Regional Economic Development Corporation (REDC), is the first of its kind in the region.

The outcomes of a review of the Program's first 12 months exceeded expectations, with:

- 322 registered local businesses gaining direct access to work opportunities
- 834 new work opportunities made available to registered vendors
- Payment days averaging nine days from supplier claim to payment
- $12.4 million worth of new work packages awarded
- $170,000 contributed by BMA to the Local Buying Community Foundation as a direct result of approved work packages.

In addition to boosting small businesses through the Program, BMA is assisting the broader business community by funding the Local Buying Community Foundation. BMA makes a financial contribution to the Foundation for each procurement transaction processed through the program.

The Foundation has delivered business development initiatives, including workshops, networking events, courses and has facilitated a partnership with Education Queensland to connect local businesses with senior high school students to create business websites. Find out more

Hay Point residents celebrate their new beach side recreation area

Hundreds of Mackay families recently celebrated their newest recreational area at the official opening of the Grendon Park and Half Tide Foreshore upgrade project on 24 August.

The upgrade project was delivered through a partnership between BMA's Hay Point Expansion Stage Three Project (HPX3) and the Mackay Regional Council. The project included new picnic and barbecue facilities, playground equipment, covered areas and seating, and a new 1km pathway.

HPX3 supported the project with funding of $2.5 million, and the new area will be managed and maintained by the Mackay Regional Council to ensure it is around for future generations to enjoy.

Leisure Court Carpark complete

An additional 230 sealed and lit car parking spaces are now available for use by people attending events at Mackay's Virgin Australia Stadium and South Mackay's Sporting Precinct, and HPX3 project workers taking the bus to site from the Leisure Court Carpark. The $1.1 million project was also the result of a partnership between the HPX3 Project and Mackay Regional Council.

Apply now for BMA Scholarships for local students

CQUniversity Australia and BMA are calling on students interested in studying 'non-mining' disciplines to apply for scholarships under the 2014 BMA Community and Indigenous Scholarship Program.

The Program aims to encourage enrolment at CQUniversity Australia in areas of study that can help reduce skills shortages in the regions, including medical and nursing careers, allied health, business and education.

The Scholarship Program, now in its second year, provides up to $5,000 per year (for full-time students) to cover educational expenses for the duration of study (up to four years). There are 10 Community

Scholarships and five Indigenous Scholarships offered each year as part of the five-year partnership between BMA and CQUinversity Australia.

Applications are open until 5pm on October 4, 2013, and further details can be found at www.cqu.edu.au/bma

Premier Newman opens new Daunia Mine

Local stakeholders joined the Premier of Queensland, The Honourable Campbell Newman MP, and representatives from Mitsubishi Corporation, BHP Billiton and BMA at the official opening of the Daunia Mine on 4 September.

The mine opening was a significant milestone for BMA and signals the company's on-going commitment to the region with the delivery of an important growth project.

In addition to the US$1.4 billion invested to construct the Daunia Mine, BMA has committed US$7.7 billion for major projects in Queensland over the past three years. This includes the new Caval Ridge Mine and the expansion of the Hay Point Coal Terminal near Mackay. Construction of the mine commenced in 2011 and was completed in July this year, under budget and producing coal four months ahead of schedule.

Assessment centres find top recruits for Daunia & Caval Ridge Mines

BMA set out to recruit a diverse workforce for both Daunia and Caval Ridge Mines, including an increase in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees.

In BMA's first targeted drive to increase Indigenous recruitment, eligible candidates were invited to a halfday assessment centre to complete tests that would identify the best candidates for operator roles.

Daunia Mine Superintendent Coal Mining, Johan van de Brande, said "the calibre of these candidates has been very high and I have no doubt they will successfully fit into our Daunia operation."

Did you know?

The BHP Billiton Matched Giving Program now offers BMA employees even more for their donations and volunteering. For every dollar donated, the company will contribute two in return, and for each hour of time volunteered, the contribution has doubled.

These exciting changes will mean BMA employees can now make an even bigger impact on charity and community organisations.

Richelle is helping new residents make Dysart home

Thanks to a partnership between BMA and the Dysart Community Support Group (DCSG), new residents to Dysart are now welcomed and supported by Community Settlement Officer, Richelle Toshack.

Relocating to a new town can be daunting for anyone and the BMA Settlement Program, also running in Moranbah, provides families and individuals relocating to Dysart with a friendly point of contact and a support network.

Richelle is familiar with the feeling of being a new resident, having relocated to Dysart in 2001 with her immediate family and no support network to rely on.

In a testament to the welcoming character of the Dysart community, Richelle quickly settled in and has been an active participant in various clubs and committees over the years. Richelle looks forward to providing new residents with the ongoing support and resources they need.

BMA a shave ahead of the competition

The 2013 Leukaemia Foundation World's Greatest Shave proved a fiercely fought competition among BMA sites, with record fundraising results across the company. BMA's Blackwater Mine raised $144,000 to win the World's Greatest Shave Mining and Energy Challenge shield, and the title of top fundraiser in Queensland.

BMA Blackwater Mine General Manager, Paul Hemburrow, congratulated his team and said the campaign was the result of many months of hard work by many people.

BMA, a supporter of the Mining and Energy Challenge since its inception in 2006, was among the best fundraisers in Queensland, with four sites named in Queensland's Top 30 fundraisers. BMA's sites collectively raised over $274,000 in total (including funds contributed through the BHP Billiton Matched Giving Program).

Central Highlands gathers to celebrate diversity

The Central Highlands community has once again demonstrated a huge appetite for all things international and cultural, with over 6,500 people attending the 9th Annual Multicultural Festival in August.

Hosted by the Central Highlands Regional Council and the Central Highlands Development Corporation, the festival was packed with global cuisine, world music and dance, international beer and wine, and plenty of activities for the kids.

Central Highlands Regional Council Mayor, Peter Maguire, said "the Festival just gets better and better every year".

"The entertainment provided by our Japanese Sister City, Ichinoseki, was a wonderful demonstration of successful long term collaborations, just like our partnership with BMA to bring this event to Central Highlands residents".

BMA celebrates with community partners

BMA's community stakeholders attended special events last month in Moranbah and Dysart to hear the latest on the Company's operations and community investment activities. The dinner also acknowledged the valuable support and contributions made by each of the stakeholders to BMA's business and the communities of Moranbah and Dysart.

Goonyella Riverside Mine General Manager, Steve Johnston, said it was "important to have these events to ensure community groups and stakeholders are kept up to date with the industry they work so closely with".

Moranbah State High School Principal, Scott Whybird, said the school's partnership with BMA had "allowed us to progress our vision of positive pathways."

"It's always great working together to achieve our goals," Mr Whybird said.
