Materiality assessment

We conduct a materiality assessment every year to identify the sustainability issues that are most critical to our business and to our stakeholders. This process assists us to both track ongoing issues and identify emerging ones. This analysis informs our sustainability strategies and enables us to provide transparent coverage of key topics in line with Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) principles.

As part of this assessment, we analyse our risk registers and other inputs and engage with internal and external stakeholders to identify the issues of most concern to them. The Sustainability Committee reviews the assessment and provides feedback on the issues. The material issues identified by the materiality assessment we conducted in FY2018 are outlined below.

Our stakeholders

As a global company, we interact with a range of stakeholders. Our methods and frequency of engaging with and listening to stakeholders are diverse:

- Globally, we communicate via our Annual General Meetings, corporate publications (including the Annual Report, Sustainability Report and other topic-specific reports), our website (bhp.com), releases to the market and media, analyst briefings, speeches and interviews with senior executives.

- At a regional and local level, each asset is required to plan, implement and document stakeholder engagement activities. This includes community forums, newsletters and reports; community perception surveys and consultation groups; implementing community complaints and grievance mechanisms; representation on specific industry association committees and initiatives; and engagement to develop community programs.

- As a key stakeholder group, we also engage with our people (employees and contractors) via tailored internal channels. These channels include our intranet; email and newsletters; town halls; and by inviting feedback and comment through employee perception surveys. Key internal announcements and videos are made available in English and Spanish.
